

Conditions for donations: recurring card payment

Terms of agreement as of 20 February 2026

A recurring card payment involves an agreement that is valid until further notice, in which the donor's payment card is charged either monthly or annually for an amount that is agreed upon.

The first donation is debited in connection with joining. The donor's card is debited for subsequent donations according to the initial date. If debiting the card is unsuccessful on the stipulated date, the attempt will be repeated on the next two banking days.

The sum that is donated, the target, and the time interval between donations are selected by the donor in the donation agreement process.

The donation agreement is in force until further notice. The donor may cancel the agreement by contacting Aalto University Donor Engagement by e-mail: donor-engagement@aalto.fi. At least five workdays should be allowed for processing the changes.

The donor agreement ends when a new payment card is issued. Instructions on renewing a donor agreement will be sent to the e-mail address provided by the donor.

Aalto University does not handle or save the donor's card number. Paytrail Plc is the designated partner for recurring card payments.

The payments are invoiced by the Aalto University Foundation sr.
