

Katinkultaa ja kirkuvaa punaista

Maisa Koivisto's Paintings at Aralis Gallery 13.2-26.2.2015

The paintings have been created during the "maalauksen syventävät opinnot" course. My way of working has a highly experimental nature, and it's not neither directed nor restricted by preset objectives. The ingredients for the topics are often gathered from dreams and stories, produced by the mind during the painting process. Personally, I find painting as a field of freedom – an area where everything is allowed. Above all, I'm fascinated by the colours. Besides colourist paintings, I'm also interested in naïve art. I deeply admire primitive art and oriental ornamentation, which may also be seen in my works.
