

Welcome to study New Media at Aalto University

On behalf of all the staff of the Aalto Media Lab I warmly welcome you to study New Media with us in the Master's Programme in Art & Media at Aalto University School of Art, Design and Architecture.

We are very excited to start our next academic year with an excellent group of new students. We offer our MA degree students a comprehensive, up-to-date programme within a high-quality learning environment which gives you a valuable competitive edge in the employment market, both in Finland and around the globe.

The official academic year begins with the School's general 'ARTS orientation' on 29th of August to 2nd of September. During the orientation period you will learn about the practicalities of being a student here and you will get to know about the variety of study and leisure related opportunities you have as a student at Aalto University. You will also meet your new fellow students and the staff of your own department who will guide you with planning your studies.

During the Summer months please expect more detailed information via e-mail about starting your studies and the orientation schedule. Please remember to check your e-mail from time to time for our important messages. You will find the updated schedule for the orientation week and other useful information about the start of your studies from the official study guide: <https://into.aalto.fi/display/enmlab/Starting+your+studies>
