Background for the project
Why the change from Into to Student Guide?

Why

- Current Into platform Confluence obsolete and expensive
- Improving accessibility
  - Accessibility non-existent with Into
  - Drupal (aalto.fi platform) accessible
- Possibility for interfaces with other systems (Sisu, Salesforce)
- Aalto.fi optimized to work for phones, as well

Why now?

- Discussed for years
- Into platform prices increased significantly from 2023 on
  - Other changes to the platform coming, as well
- We did not want transfer to happen in stages over time
  - Information in two places → difficult to use
- We wanted a time when
  - Use would not be too critical (graduation, orientation, application)
  - Transfer work could be completed beforehand
    - (most Learning Services personnel on holiday during summer)

Why aalto.fi?

- Many options discussed
  - MyStudies platform Salesforce
  - Hybrid between Salesforce and aalto.fi platform Drupal
- Aalto.fi chosen
  - Drupal support is in-house
  - Salesforce not for storing information and updating it
  - Improving the user experience to be in line with the Aalto brand and visual identity
  - One place where all students and prospective students can find information related to their studies
  - Better experience from applicant → student → alumni
How was student perspective included?

- In autumn 2021, Learning Services (LES) conducted a Service Design project on student communications
  - Students, LES personnel participated
  - These results formed the road map for the Student Guide

- In spring 2022, we made a mock-up of the Student Guide and asked for feedback from students, LES and academic personnel
  - Based on the results, we held a workshop to form the navigation of the Student Guide and programme pages

- The Into transfer project employed 4 student interns from Aalto

- Illustrations by an Aalto student
Aalto.fi (Drupal) structure

- Aalto.fi doesn’t have a hierarchical page structure.
  - vs. Into which had a tree structure
- The website is structured around hubs
- Hubs
  - Pages
    - Different page types
- Advantage because not all subpages are visible
  - Into criticized due to too many menu items (hard to find relevant information)
- Disadvantage because tree structure is not possible
Student Guide structure

- Having more structure, navigation was a priority
  - Student Guide done with Drupal technology and hubs
  - More hierarchy with navigations

- Aalto.fi is designed for mobile
  - Number of items in navigations limited to 5 (in top headers and subheaders)

- Top navigation
  - Similar to Into
  - Topics relevant to all students
  - Titles also from surveys

- Programme page with subpages
  - Programme navigation same for all programmes
Student guide principles

- Very similar to Into
- All information is public
- Student news (from Aalto) on Student guide
- Site is easy to navigate
  - Navigation is standard for all pages, programme navigation is standard
- Student can find people to contact and can send feedback directly to the content owner on a page
- Information is in three languages
  - Accessible to everyone and discoverable in search
Student Guide survey results and actions
Development based on last survey

- Previous survey in the spring of 2023
- Short address to Student Guide (students.aalto.fi)
- Link to Student Guide on the aalto.fi front page and schools’ pages
- Development of the aalto menu

- Developing the Student Guide front page
  - Quick links to filtered views of the programmes
- Instructions on how to use the site
  - More specific general instructions, FAQ

→ Feedback collected permanently on each page, continuous development
Results of the Student Guide survey

- Questionnaire open Oct 11 – Nov 10
- 69 replies, more than half students
  - Bachelor’s students 28%
  - Master’s students 45%
  - LES 23%
  - Academic staff, doctoral students 1%
- Most replies from ARTS
  - ARTS 31%, BIZ 10%, CHEM 5%
  - ELEC 7%, ENG 12%, SCI 22%
Results of the Student Guide survey

- Critical feedback but results gotten better from spring
  - Previous survey in Feb-March of 2023
- Similar results to spring but negativity is less severe
- In general, finding information is easier than in the spring
- There was a feeling that the structure had changed from Into
  - Potential reasons:
    - Into was familiar and users had learned a path to the information they need
    - Misremembering Into logic, navigation
    - Some paths available on Into are no longer available

Conclusions

• Aalto.fi and the role of Student Guide in it are seen as difficult
• Users like the look of the Student Guide
  • At the same time, people don’t want more visualizations but perhaps more colors
• On the one hand, people find the pages to be clear but information hard to find
• There are still links to Into on the Student Guide which make finding the correct information difficult
Analysis of the results

- Getting used to a new system is difficult and takes time
  - The new interface is seen as more difficult than Into
  - Student Guide seen as completely different
- Knowing what information is on the programme page and what is included in the curriculum is difficult
  - Some information looked for in the wrong place
  - Curriculum seen as only major studies
- Old links and behavior models make the use of the new interface more difficult
- Users want aalto.fi content to be more differentiated
  - Especially application pages confusing
- Users want language versions to be automatic
Non-viable suggestions

- Going back to Into not possible
- Re-direction from Into not financially, logically sensible
  - Google and links direct to Student Guide
- Duplicating Into structure not possible or wanted
  - More unification wanted
  - Not as many links in navigation
- Navigations cannot be changed completely
  - Technically the possibilities are limited
    - Technical features/limits from Drupal and accessibility
  - Poor user experience and difficult to change structure completely at this point
Short-term development

- More visualizations under construction
  - More distinct identity for the Student Guide
  - Degree structure visualizations
- Technical fixes
  - Majors discoverable in search, programme filter page
- Discovering the possibility of linking directly to the correct programme language version

→ Feedback collected permanently on each page, continuous development
Long-term hopes

- Recommendation for content to be unified to improve findability
  - E.g. graduation, thesis instructions same for all students

- More integrations
  - Sisu
  - MyStudies

- More personalized experience
  - News
  - View
  - Direct link to programme

- Developing application pages and student pages in tandem
